Subject: Breckland Council Boundary Review - Invitation

Good Morning,

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England (LGBCE), are currently undertaking a review of Breckland's electoral and boundary arrangements. It is being conducted by the LGBCE (www.lgbce.org.uk) who are an independent body accountable to Parliament.

The Local Government Boundary Commission has decided that the number of councillors in Breckland should be 51. This is a change from the existing number, which is 49.

Further details of the Breckland review can be found on the attached press release and on their website: <https://www.lgbce.org.uk/all-reviews/breckland>. The Commission would like to hear what Parishes, residents and organisations think about their local area and how it should be shaped going forward through a ten-week consultation which will run from 7th May to 15th July 2024.

The Lead Commissioner and Commission officers would like to provide a presentation to all Parish Clerks and Parish Councillors outlining the review process together with a chance for Q&As, on Wednesday 15th May at 10.30am via Microsoft Teams (link below) and is likely to take 45 minutes to an hour.

Meanwhile the Commission has asked if the attached Posters could be used around your towns and villages to promote the consultation.

Breckland Electoral Review

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England is asking for your views on our electoral review of Breckland. The review will agree new ward boundaries across the council.

- Do you have suggestions about where your ward boundaries should be?
- Where do people in your area go to access local facilities, such as shops and leisure activities?
- Which areas do you identify as your local community?

Consultation closes: 15 July 2024
